ISHIGAKI - JAPAN

Your MSC Cruise will take you to the Japanese city of Ishigaki on the island of the same name, in the Prefecture of Okinawa. The island, which is 124 miles from Taiwan, is in the Iriomote-Ishigaki National Park, along with those of Iriomote and Kohama, Kuroshima and Taketomi. Ishigaki has been registered as a city since 1947, and up until 1972 it was administered under the supervision of the United States, following Japan's surrender in World War II. You can go on an excursion to Kabira Bay, also famous for its black pearl cultivation and for being the first place in the world to cultivate them. White sand, turquoise water and dense green vegetation: the natural landscape of the Iriomote-Ishigaki National Park will take your breath away. It is tempting to dive into the beautiful sea, rich in colourful fauna, but unfortunately it is not suitable for swimming due to the strong currents.

ISG11 - EMERALD OBSERVATORY & KABIRA BAY

This short excursion is an excellent opportunity to discover how man and nature coexist in perfect harmony on the small island of Ishigaki. After leaving the port, a 20-minute coach transfer will take you to the Emerald Observatory. It is one of the two stops included in this excursion and one of the places that offers a splendid view not only of the city of Ishigaki but also of the entire island and the sea on the horizon.
