NAUTICAL INFORMATION

The Yokohama Port has served as a gateway to the greater Tokyo area and has welcomed countless cruise ships since its opening in 1859 as Japan's first modern international trading port. Lying as many as 11 nautical miles closer to the Pacific than the Tokyo Port, it allows cruise ships to save on pilot charges and fuel, and passengers can spend a greater amount of time for sightseeing. On departure MSC Bellissima will sail about 17 nautical miles inside the Tokyo bay and all the eastern coast of Japan to reach next Port of Naha.
